JUDICIAL STATISTICS OF IRELAND FOR THE YEAR 1899.

PART I.—CRIMINAL STATISTICS.

I.—INTRODUCTORY REMARKS.

The statistics contained in this Report, and the detailed Tables which follow, have reference to the number and nature of Criminal offences committed in Ireland during the year 1899, and to the measures adopted for the prevention and the punishment of crime in the country. The general arrangement of the various Tables is the same as that followed in the Criminal Statistics for the four years preceding.*

*I.—Intro-
Remarks.*

To afford facilities for a consideration of the fluctuations in the amount of crime during a series of years, Tables containing statistics for the last twenty years, with quinquennial averages, are included.

The general classification of offences adopted is a division into "indictable" and "non-indictable." Classification of offences

Indictable offences are divided into the following six classes:—

- Class I.—Offences against the person.
- Class II.—Offences against property with violence.
- Class III.—Offences against property without violence.
- Class IV.—Malicious injuries to property.
- Class V.—Forgery and offences against the currency.
- Class VI.—Other offences not included in the above classes.

The crimes comprised in each class will be found set forth at each margin of the tables.

Non-indictable offences, although not formally classified, are grouped, as far as circumstances permit, either according to their nature or according to the Statutes of which they are infractions. The statistics relating to them are given in the tables showing the criminal business in the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, in which tables the cases disposed of summarily are classified under two heads, viz. :—

Section A.—Indictable offences disposed of summarily.

Section B.—Other offences disposed of summarily.

Many of the minor cases, that is, many of those in Section B, although classed as "offences," are more of a civil than a criminal character.

* Three Schedules, showing in detail alterations in classification introduced in the year 1895, will be found on pages 33-35 of the Criminal Statistics for that year.

In addition to such cases, the proceedings in the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction comprise a large group of quasi-criminal cases which are not included in the Table relating to criminal offences, but are set forth separately in Table 18. The following is a list of the principal subjects respecting which applications for orders were made in the quasi-criminal cases here referred to:—

Sureties.
Maintenance.
Goods stolen (Restoration of).
Employers and Workmen.
Children (Attendance Orders under Education Act, Commitments to Industrial Schools, &c.).
Sanitary Law.
Dogs, Licences for.

As already indicated, comparative tables showing in a summary form the state of crime in Ireland, and the proceedings in Criminal Courts during each of the twenty years 1880-99, with quinquennial averages under each head, have been compiled: they are given on pages 23-35.

These comparisons will be found in Tables A, B, C, and D. Tables A, B, and C refer, respectively, to the number of persons for trial at Assizes and Quarter Sessions; cases dealt with in Courts of summary jurisdiction; and all offences of an indictable character reported to the police. Table D gives a summary of Tables A, B, and C under condensed headings for the quinquennial averages and for the year 1899 only. In Table E, parts I. and II., which follows, is set forth the geographical distribution of crime and of the principal forms thereof during the last quinquennial period as shown by the rates of crimes to population in each county in Ireland. Part I. gives this information regarding the counties arranged in alphabetical order by provinces, and Part II. shows the counties grouped according to their several degrees of criminality under each of the selected heads.

II.—GENERAL REVIEW.

The increase in the number of indictable offences in Ireland in the year 1898, noted in the Report for that year, did not continue during 1899, the number of such cases in that year being 8·5 per cent. below the number for 1898, and 3·4 per cent. below that for 1897. In none of the three years was the rate represented by such crimes high, being only about 2 per 1,000 of the estimated population. The number of persons proceeded against for non-indictable offences was slightly less than in the year 1898, but such cases exceeded the corresponding average for the ten years 1889-98, and, allowing for the decrease in the population, were relatively more numerous than in any year during that period. The chief increases in the non-indictable offences as compared with the corresponding averages were in cases of drunkenness, offences in relation to dogs, and offences against Highway Acts.

Although there is no doubt that many offences which are non-indictable are of a decidedly criminal nature, or such as often lead up to serious crimes, still the number of "Indictable Offences" may be taken as the more correct standard by which to measure the prevalence of crime in relation to the population, inasmuch as the non-indictable offences include very many which partake largely of a civil nature. As stated above, cases distinctly of the latter character—those in which orders are made to maintain certain civil rights, or to secure the discharge of civil duties—are now shown separately under the title of Quasi-Criminal Offences (Table 18, p. 95).

and in the year 1898 they amounted to about 15,500, and in the year 1899 to about 16,000. Prior to 1895 most of such cases were found among "Cases disposed of Summarily," and were included in "Minor Offences" in the reports under the old system. Another group of the cases "Disposed of Summarily" were proceedings against weekly tenants in towns, which are especially numerous in Dublin. These appeared both in the Civil and the Criminal statistics in certain places; they are now separated from the Criminal statistics proper. As they tended to increase the number of apparent crimes committed, they must be allowed for when instituting comparisons with the statistics for years anterior to 1895.

In the following statement, which is given in continuation of similar summaries in the reports for previous years, the number of the serious and the minor offences in the year 1899 and their ratio to the population are set forth in comparison with the corresponding particulars for 1898. The figures for cases disposed of summarily show the number of persons proceeded against in such cases; those for cases not disposed of summarily have reference to the number of crimes committed.

The following summary shows the rate per 10,000 of the estimated population in the middle of each year represented by the number of cases in each class of "Indictable" Offences in Ireland during 1899 and each of the ten years preceding, with the average annual rates for those ten years. It gives a view of the variations which have taken place during the eleven years in the proportional number of the more serious offences in Ireland, and shows that, measured by the number of indictable offences committed in proportion to the population, the crime rate in 1899 was below that for the preceding year, but somewhat (about 5 per cent.) above the average for the ten years 1889-98. The rate yielded by offences against the person was below the average, while that for offences against property was above the average, the chief portion of the increase being in cases of larceny.

parts of Ireland, and under these Acts, in addition to cases which might have been disposed of summarily by Magistrates in Petty Sessions, many cases were dealt with which, in ordinary course, would have been returned for trial at Quarter Sessions or Assizes. The circumstances being exceptional, it was decided to exclude all the cases under these Acts in the years 1883-5 and 1887-92 from the ordinary Tables and Summaries in the Reports for those years, and to give them in special Tables only, and they are also omitted from the retrospective Summary Tables in this volume, but the following statement shows the number of persons proceeded against under those Acts during each of the years here referred to:—

III.—NATURE OF CRIMES.

III.—
Nature of Crimes.

As already stated, the heads under which the various kinds of serious crime are grouped are as follow:—

Classification

CLASS I.—OFFENCES AGAINST THE PERSON.

CLASS II.—OFFENCES AGAINST PROPERTY WITH VIOLENCE.

CLASS III.—OFFENCES AGAINST PROPERTY WITHOUT VIOLENCE.

CLASS IV.—MALICIOUS INJURIES TO PROPERTY.

CLASS V.—FORGERY AND OFFENCES AGAINST THE CURRENCY.

CLASS VI.—OTHER OFFENCES NOT INCLUDED IN THE ABOVE CLASSES.

The numbers given in the following observations regarding the crimes of each of the six classes here mentioned are taken from the returns of cases reported to the police. The total number of such crimes (indictable offences) in 1899 was 9,144, or 2 per 1,000 of the population, being 844 under the number for the preceding year, and 336 under that for the year 1897.

Offences

person.

CLASS I.—OFFENCES AGAINST THE PERSON.

The number of offences of this class, which after having fallen from 867 for the year 1896 to 803 for the following year, rose to 877 for the year 1898, fell again to 803 last year.

The total number of cases of murder is 26 (11 of persons aged above one year, and 15 of infants aged one year and under), being 8 less than in the preceding year, and 13, or 33 per cent., under the average for the 5 years 1894-8. Of attempts to murder there were 7, as compared with 5 for the preceding year, 17 for the year 1897, and at average of 8.8 for the 5 years ending with 1898. The cases of manslaughter were 54, as compared with an average of 69 for the five years 1894-8, and 74 for the last of those years. Thus the cases of homicide and attempted homicide taken together were 26 under the number in the preceding year, and 30 below the average for the five years 1894-8.

CLASS II.—OFFENCES AGAINST PROPERTY WITH VIOLENCE.

The number of cases of this nature reported to the police during the year 1899 was 430, being 57 under the number for the preceding year, and 64 under that for the year 1897, but 21 above the average for the five years 1894-8. The principal items in this class are burglary and house and shop breaking, amounting to 375 of the total of 480; the other cases include 75 robberies and assaults with intent to rob, 27 cases of III.—Nature of Crimes.

 sacrilege, and 2 cases of extortion by threats to accuse of crime.

CLASS III.—OFFENCES AGAINST PROPERTY WITHOUT VIOLENCE.

The offences of this class formed 71 per cent. of the total number of indictable offences reported to the Police in 1899: their number was 6,485, being a fall of 732 as compared with the number for the preceding year, and 426 under that for 1897. Offences against property without violence
 The class practically means cases of larceny.

CLASS IV.—MALICIOUS INJURIES TO PROPERTY.

There were 523 offences of this nature in 1899, being 6 in excess of the number for the preceding year, 117 over the average for the five years 1894-8, 89 over the average for the five years 1889-93, and 8 over the average for the five years 1884-8, but 286, or 26 per cent., under the average for the five years 1879-83. The 523 offences in 1899 comprised 216 cases of arson, 102 of setting fire to crops, plantations, &c., and 127 of killing and maiming cattle. Malicious Injuries to property.

CLASS V.—FORGERY AND OFFENCES AGAINST THE CURRENCY.

But few offences of this class are committed in Ireland. The number for last year was above the average for recent years, being 47 or 15 in excess of the average for the five years 1894-8: the increase was in cases of uttering or possessing counterfeit coin, which numbered 33. Forgery and Offences against the currency.

CLASS VI.—OTHER INDICTABLE OFFENCES.

The number, in 1899, of indictable offences not included in any of the foregoing classes was 506, or 11 in excess of the average number under this heading for the five years 1894-8. Among the 506 cases are 228 of Intimidation by Threatening Letters, Notices, or otherwise (an increase of 22 as compared with the corresponding number for the preceding year), and 179 attempts to commit suicide. Other indictable offences.

OFFENCES DISPOSED OF SUMMARILY.

In this division there are two groups distinguished as (A) and (B) respectively in the tables. Offences disposed of summarily. Table 16.

The cases under the head (A) consist of some of the indictable offences which have been discussed in the above remarks dealing with the police returns of crimes committed—those, namely, in which the charges arising out of them were disposed of in Courts of Summary Jurisdiction. The number of such in 1899 was 3,242, or 35.5 per cent. of the total number of indictable offences. The bulk of the 3,242 cases so disposed of were larcenies.

In Section (B) are included all non-indictable offences. The number of persons charged with such offences, in 1899, amounted to 228,180, or 50 per 1,000 of the estimated population, which was also the rate represented by offences of this class in each of the two years preceding. It is to be borne in mind that although the cases in this Section are exclusive of those referred to on page 10 as quasi-criminal, they nevertheless comprise a large number of cases, more of a civil than a criminal character, such as some of the offences against the Highway Acts, Police Regulations, Sanitary Laws, Hackney Carriage Regulations, &c.

A very large number of the cases which come under division (B) consist of charges of drunkenness (including drunkenness and disorderly conduct) and assaults. The number of the latter (assaults—comprising aggravated assaults, assaults on constables, and common assaults) in 1899 was 22,065, or 9.3 per cent. of all offences committed. In Drunkenness and assaults. Tables 16-17.

III.—
Nature of Crimes.

the case of drunkenness the number is much more remarkable, as it amounts to 98,491, being 41·5 per cent. of all offences committed, and 42·5 per cent. of all cases disposed of summarily. Assault cases were slightly more numerous in 1899 than in 1898, and the charges of drunkenness show a considerable increase—from 94,279 to 98,491.

The assault cases disposed of summarily, and the cases of drunkenness (including drunkenness and disorderly conduct) in 1899, are set out in the following statement, and a comparison instituted with each of the ten years preceding :—

	1888.	1889.	1890.	1891.	1892.	1893.	1894.	1895.	1896.	1897.	1898.	Average Annual Number 1889-98.	1899.
Assaults, Drunkenness and Drunk and Disorderly.	28,850	29,220	30,741	26,312	28,126	34,384	29,798	24,067	33,110	32,690	25,805	22,98
	55,137	100,202	100,528	95,297	89,568	48,268	85,663	90,643	94,282	94,279	92,907	92,907	92,907

It will be observed that the assault cases in 1899 were slightly in excess of those in the year 1898, but compare favourably with the statistics of such offences for the preceding nine years, and were much below the average for the decennium 1889-98, and that the cases of drunkenness were more numerous than in any of the ten years except 1890 and 1891, and considerably in excess of the average for the decennium.

Among the other charges disposed of summarily there were 3,166 cases of cruelty to animals, 743 cases of cruelty to children, 794 offences against the game laws, and 2,162 cases of malicious damage. Compared with the statistics for the preceding year cases of cruelty to animals show a slight increase, but the number under each of the other headings here mentioned shows a substantial decrease.

QUASI-CRIMINAL OFFENCES.

Quasicriminal
Table 18.

Details of the nature and number of cases coming under this head are given in Table 18. The applications for orders in such cases amounted to about 16,000 in the year 1899. Nearly one-third (5,246) of these were cases for orders to find sureties to keep the peace or for good behaviour, and 3,182, or about one-fifth of the whole, related to children, comprising 2,447 for school attendance orders, 721 for Industrial school orders, and 14 for custody orders under the 1894 Act for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. Among the remaining cases are 2,168 applications under Sanitary Law.

IV.—GEOGRAPHICAL DISTRIBUTION OF CRIME.

The general distribution of crime throughout the County, City, and Town Districts into which Ireland is divided for criminal jurisdiction and police purposes, is shown in the following statement for the years 1898 and 1899, with the increase or decrease in each district in the latter year :—

Tables 16
and 24.

Adopting the number of indictable offences committed as the more reliable measure of the prevalence of crime, we find that, comparing the figures for 1889 with those for 1888, there was an increase of such offences in 11 districts and a decrease in 32. The districts of increase were the Dublin Metropolitan Police District, the City of Limerick, the West Riding of Cork, and the following Counties:—Kildare, King's, Queen's, Westmeath, Wicklow, Monaghan, Tyrone, and Roscommon.

The non-indictable offences show an increase in 31 districts, and a decrease in 22.

Taking all forms of offences collectively, the numbers show an increase in 33 districts, and a decrease in 28.

In the following lists the various districts are arranged from the lowest to the highest rate per 100,000 inhabitants (according to the Census of 1891) for each group, and for the total of all kinds of crime in the year 1889.

It will be observed that, as usual, the large towns occupy unfavourable positions in all these lists. This excess of the relative proportion of crime in large town districts as compared with the total of crime in Ireland generally, or in those districts where the populations are either altogether rural or where residents in towns form a comparatively small portion of the community, is further illustrated by the following statement, which shows the proportion of crime under certain headings in those towns having, in 1891, a population of twenty thousand and upwards; in all other districts; and in the whole of Ireland:—

IV.—
Geographical Distribution of Crimes.

Offences in Large Town Districts, compared with those in other districts.

Of the 237,324 criminal offences of all kinds in Ireland in 1899, 74,037, or 31·2 per cent., were committed in the towns referred to in the foregoing statement, although the aggregate population of these towns (796,000) constituted only 15·9 per cent. of the population of Ireland in the year 1891. The criminal offences amounted to 9,301·1 per 100,000 of the population in the towns, against 4,177·2 in the remainder of Ireland. In fact, the town crime rate is more than double the country rate for non-indictable and six times the country rate for indictable offences. As already pointed out when dealing with the nature of crimes, a very large portion of the offences committed consists of cases of drunkenness. The foregoing Table shows the ratio of cases of drunkenness to the population was 2,931·9 per 100,000 in the large town districts, against 1,920·3 in the rest of Ireland.

Distribution of crimes in counties. Comparative Table E, Parts I and II.

In Comparative Table E, Part II., will be found the geographical distribution by counties (including the towns situated therein) of the principal crimes (indictable offences) in groups of crimes during the five years 1895-99. In this Part the counties are arranged in alphabetical order by provinces. In Table E, Part I., the counties are arranged in order for each class of crime from that where there was least to that where there was the greatest prevalence of crime, and in some columns the counties are grouped under certain degrees of criminality. From the first column in this Part, which shows for the five years 1895-9 the average annual number of indictable offences per 100,000 of the 1891 population, it will be observed that the rates range from 64·97 per 100,000 in Droghda to 606·89 in Dublin. In 11 counties and ridings the rate was under 100; in 31 it ranged between 100 and 200; and in 3—Kildare (211·38), Antrim (447·89), and, as above stated, Dublin—it exceeded 200. The rates for "Crimes against Property," "Crimes of Violence," and "Crimes against Morals" and "Suicides" are given in columns 2, 3, 4, and 6 respectively.

Distribution of drunkenness. Comparative Table E.

Column 5 shows for the quinquennial period 1895-9 the average rates represented by cases of drunkenness, which range from 1,116 per 100,000 of the population in the County of Mayo to 3,196 (or nearly treble the Mayo rate) in Queen's County.

V.—Procedure for the Punishment of Crimes.

V.—PROCEDURE FOR THE PUNISHMENT OF CRIME.

The Police, as is well known, act as public prosecutors in the great majority of cases in Ireland, and in most of the more serious offences the preliminary proceedings are instituted by them. The offices of Crown and Sessional Crown Solicitor are amalgamated, and the duties of the united offices are performed by a Crown Solicitor in the Counties of Carlow, Cavan, Cork City, Down, Dublin, Galway, Kildare, Limerick County and City, Longford, Louth, Mayo, Monaghan, Queen's, Roscommon, Waterford, Westmeath, Wexford, and Wicklow. Elsewhere where no amalgamation of offices has yet taken place, Crown business at Assizes or Quarter Sessions is discharged by Crown or Sessional Crown Solicitors, respectively.

Districts Proclaimed. Tables 10, 11, and 12.

This is a convenient place to refer to the special feature in the administration of the criminal law in Ireland, by which certain districts are proclaimed under special

Acts of Parliament. The particulars of the proclaimed districts and the titles of the Acts of Parliament under which the proclamations were issued, will be found in Tables 16, 11 and 12, p. 74. The districts subject to Proclamations were the same on 31st December, 1899, as on the last day of the previous year.

The particulars of the proceedings in criminal cases at Assizes and Quarter Sessions will be found in Tables 1 to 7.

The subjoined statement gives in a summary manner, for 1899, and each of the ten years preceding, the total number of persons tried by jury at Assizes, at the Dublin Commission Court, and at Quarter Sessions, and how their cases were disposed of:—

Comparative Table A contains a twenty years' retrospect of the number of persons for trial at Assizes and Quarter Sessions with the nature of offences in each year from 1880 to 1899, also quinquennial averages.

In Table 8 will be found the particulars of the cost of criminal proceedings at Assizes and Quarter Sessions for the year ended the 31st March, 1899, the total amount for Assizes being £39,054, and for Quarter Sessions, £7,943, as compared with £38,476 and £7,311, respectively, for the year ended 31st March, 1898.

V.—Proceedings for the Punishment of Crime.

In Comparative Table B will be found a retrospect for the twenty years 1880-99 of the number of persons tried summarily* and the nature of offences, with quinquennial averages. Special attention is directed to the notes prefixed to Tables 15 and 16 explanatory of these Tables, and consequently of Comparative Table B. In connection with the subject of Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, attention may be specially called to the Table (18) of Quasi-Criminal cases dealt with already at page 14.

APPEALS TO QUARTER SESSIONS.

Appeals to Quarter Sessions. Table 19.

The number of the appeals to Quarter Sessions from convictions by Magistrates and the nature of the convictions appealed against will be found in Table 19. These appeals numbered 458 in 1898, and 474 in 1899. Those in the latter year were disposed of as follows:—Affirmed, 192; reversed, 126; varied, 54; otherwise disposed of, 104.

VI.—Criminals and others in confinement and known Criminals at large.

VI.—CRIMINALS AND OTHERS IN CONFINEMENT AND KNOWN CRIMINALS AT LARGE.

CHARACTER OF PERSONS PROSECUTED.

Character of persons prosecuted. Table 25.

Some particulars as to the previous character of persons prosecuted during the year are given in Table 25, and an explanation of the principle of classification adopted is prefixed to the Table. It would appear that of 2,914 persons proceeded against for indictable offences and not tried summarily, 1,008, or 35 per cent., were known to be of bad character, and 1,906, or 65 per cent., came under the head of "previous character good or unknown," and of the total number of 231,474 persons proceeded against summarily for indictable and non-indictable offences, 215,814 or 93 per cent., as entered under the heading "previous character good or unknown."

SUSPECTED PERSONS AT LARGE.

Suspected persons at large. Table 26.

In Table 26 will be found the numbers of suspected persons at large on the first Tuesday in April, 1899. The total number is 1,318, comprising 490 thieves, 45 receivers, and 96 persons otherwise habitually engaged in crime, with 687 other suspected persons. Besides these there were 82 persons under the supervision of the police.

PERSONS IN CONFINEMENT.

Persons in confinement. Admissions to places of detention. Tables 30, 41, 45, 48, and 51.

The disposal of persons committed in the year 1899 under the various methods of procedure for the punishment or the prevention of crime is shown in the following statement:—

Admissions to Places of Detention.	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total.
Total in all Ireland,	26,393	14,072	40,465
Into Prisons, Bridewells, and Reformatories:—
Into Larger Prisons,	22,603	11,975	34,578
Into Minor Prisons,	1,314	348	1,662
Into Bridewells and Lock-up,	654	169	823
Into Reformatories,	102	20	122
Total,	24,605	12,532	37,137
Into Lunatic Asylums (criminal and dangerous lunatics),	1,513	1,062	2,575
Into Industrial Schools,	477	478	955

It will be observed that there were 40,465 persons admitted to places of confinement during the year 1899, and that of these 26,393, or about two-thirds, were males, and

* Exclusive of Persons proceeded against under Crimes Acts in the years 1885-5 and 1887-92.

14,072, or about one-third, females. Among these 40,465 were 2,375 lunatics admitted into asylums, and 955 children admitted to industrial schools; so that 3,330, or nearly 9 per cent. of the total admissions to places of detention, were of persons who cannot be considered as criminals. In addition to these exceptions, there are some young people and lunatics included among the admissions to prisons and bridewells who were only temporarily detained prior to admission to schools or lunatic asylums.

Compared with the respective numbers for the preceding year, the receptions of prisoners fell from 33,913 to 36,813 (following an increase of 3,201 in 1898 as compared with 1897); there was a slight but scarcely appreciable increase in the admissions to Lunatic Asylums (of criminal and dangerous lunatics), while the number of children admitted to Industrial Schools fell from 1,238 to 955 and the admissions to Reformatories fell from 136 to 122.

PRISONS.

The following statement shows by age periods the number of convicted prisoners (other than those committed for naval and military offences) committed to the larger and minor prisons during the year 1899 (see Table 33):—

Table 35.

There were 19 girls under 16 years of age—all of whom, except one, were aged 12 and under 16—among the 11,735 convicted females committed to prison; the number of boys under 16 years was 124, and of the 124 there were only 14 under 12 years of age. The total number of convicted males committed to these prisons was 20,353, and of females 11,735, or not much more than one-half the number of males: 13.6 per cent. of the males and 13.0 per cent. of the females were over 50 years of age. The number of prisoners received into each prison will be found in Table 30, and particulars as to the disposal of prisoners in Tables 31A and 31B. Particulars as to the nature of sentences are given in Table 32, and details regarding the length of these sentences in Table 33.

Persons who had been previously convicted constitute a very large proportion of those admitted to prison during the year 1899. Of 32,668 convicted prisoners admitted to the larger and minor prisons, no less than 23,453 had been previously convicted. Of these, 3,922 had been once previously convicted, 2,635 twice, 2,177 thrice, 1,438 four times, 1,347 five times, 3,403 six to ten times, 3,201 from eleven to twenty times, and 5,330 above twenty times. It will be observed that a very large proportion are included in the last two periods, the figures showing that the committals of persons who had previously been convicted upwards of ten times amounted to 8,531, or 26 per cent. of the total number of convicted prisoners admitted to prison during the year.

In Table 36 will be found statistics as to the birthplaces of those committed to prison. The state of education of prisoners convicted in 1899 is shown in the following statement, where the degree of education of the prisoners convicted in 1899 is compared with the state of education of persons of 12 years and upwards of the general population as ascertained from the Irish Census returns for 1891.

As there were only 15 prisoners in 1899 under the age of 12 years, this insignificant disturbance does not appreciably affect the accuracy of the comparison:—

It will be observed from this statement that, while 30.0 per cent. of convicted prisoners committed to prison in 1899 were absolutely illiterate, only 16.6 per cent. of the general population in 1891 were in a similar condition of ignorance, and there is no doubt that the percentage of illiterate among the general population was much less in 1899 than in 1891. It is, however, to be borne in mind that the Census figures here quoted are for the population of all ranks, and are not limited to the class which furnish the great bulk of the prisoners.

Previous
occupations
of prisoners.
Table 35.

The subject of the previous occupations of prisoners is dealt with in Table 35, but as the classification of occupations differs in several respects from that employed by the Census Commissioners in their report, it is impossible to institute comparisons between the occupations of prisoners and those of the general population in a manner similar to that adopted above regarding education. It is interesting, however, to note that, of the 32,668 prisoners convicted, 1,307 belonged to the domestic servant class; 15,536—by far the largest number for any one group—to the labouring classes; 571 to the class of factory workers; 3,955 to the artisan class; 108 were foremen or overlookers of labour; 355 belonged to the class of shopmen, shopwomen, and clerks; 2,657 to the class of shopkeepers and dealers; 16 to professional employments; 361 to the class of sailors, marines, and soldiers; and 5,055 (or 43 per cent. of the 11,735 female prisoners) are classified as prostitutes. It is to be noted that some of the prisoners were committed to prison more than once during the year, and that the statistics have reference to the number of commitments of convicted prisoners, not to the number of individuals committed.

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.

Tables 41-7 contain various details relating to the inmates of institutions for the prevention of crime, namely, Reformatory and Industrial Schools.

The following statement deals with juvenile criminals under Reformatory control in the year 1899, compared with 1898, and the details for 1899 will be found in Tables 41-4:—

Tables
41-4.

From this table it appears that the number of children on the rolls of Reformatory Schools in Ireland at the end of 1899, was 587, or 16 under the number at the close of the preceding year, which was 599, or 2 under that for 31st December, 1897. There were 10 less in the schools under sentence and 7 less on licence. Four of those on the rolls at the close of 1899 had absconded with sentence unexpired, being one more than the number under this heading in 1898.

Of the 587 of both sexes on the rolls at the close of the year 1899, 529 were boys and only 58 girls. The number committed during the year was 122, being 14 under the commitments in the preceding year. The number of boys committed in 1899 was 102, or 18 less than in the year 1898, and the number of girls 20, or 4 over the number for 1898.

The social condition of the young persons committed in 1899 to Reformatories in Ireland is shown in the following table :—

Only one of the 20 girls and one of the 102 boys come under the head of the illegitimate, the deserted, and those having both parents destitute or criminal. Those having both parents living, and who are not included in the foregoing, formed 55 per cent. of the boys and 40 per cent. of the girls. The orphans (including those having one parent dead) were 44 per cent. of boys and 55 per cent. of girls.

The degree of education (on admission) of children committed to Reformatory Schools is shown in the following summary :—

The want of education is seen from this summary, which shows that only one of the 20 girls and 10 of the 102 boys admitted could read and write well.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

The total number of Industrial Schools in 1899 was 72, being equal to the number in 1898. Of the 72 schools, 26 were in Munster, 20 in Leinster, 13 in Connaught, and 13 in Ulster.

The following summary shows the number of children under order of detention in Industrial Schools in Ireland at the end of 1899, as compared with similar statistics for the end of 1898 :—

CHILDREN ON THE ROLLS OF INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS IN IRELAND.	End of 1899.			End of 1898.	Increase, 1899.	Decrease, 1898.
	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
In School,	3,445	4,389	7,834	8,051	—	216

Retained in school, sentence expired,	5	77	82	68	14	—
Total,	3,748	4,677	8,425	8,716	—	291

It appears from this table that the number of children on the rolls of Industrial Schools in Ireland at the end of 1899 (8,425) was 294 under that for the close of the preceding year, which was 67 under the number at the end of 1897. Of the total number, 7,831 were in the schools undergoing their sentence of detention, 82 were retained in school with their own consent although their sentences had expired, 504 were on licence, and 5 (4 boys and 1 girl) had absconded.

Ages on admission to Industrial Schools.

The following figures show the ages of the children placed in these schools in 1899 :—

10 and under 12 years,	232	129	103	27.0	21.6
12 years and upwards,	136	71	65	14.9	13.6

The number of children admitted to Industrial Schools during the year was 955, showing a decline of 283 as compared with the admissions for the preceding year. The number of girls admitted fell from 633 in 1898 to 478 in 1899, and the number of boys from 605 in the former to 477 in the latter year.

It will be observed that 65 per cent. of the girls and 58 per cent. of the boys admitted during last year were brought under careful training in these schools at the early age of under ten years.

CRIMINAL AND DANGEROUS LUNATICS.

Criminals
and Dangerous
Lunatics in confinement.
Tables 48—
52.

The insane persons who come under the cognizance of the Criminal Law are of two classes, viz. :—One consisting of those persons who have actually committed criminal offences, and would, were they sane, be liable to punishment for their crimes; and the other, and by far the more numerous class, consisting of persons who have not committed any criminal act, but who, having shown signs of mental derangement, have become a source of anxiety to their friends and neighbours who apprehend some danger at their hands. The former class are, in the first instance, treated as criminal cases, and proceedings instituted with the view of bringing them to justice for the crimes with which they are charged. These persons are sent for trial and on being found insane are detained as lunatics; to these may be added persons who become insane while awaiting trial or during imprisonment. The class of dangerous lunatics are dealt with in a different way. They are charged before two Justices of the Peace (or a Metropolitan Police Magistrate) as being dangerous, and if the charge be proved to the satisfaction of the Justices an order is signed for their commitment to a lunatic asylum; in such cases it is not necessary to prove an actual criminal offence. In no sense can these persons be considered as criminals. In fact this method of procedure is usually adopted as the means of placing under restraint ordinary troublesome lunatics belonging to the industrial classes of the community.

The following summary shows the judgments or orders under which criminal and dangerous lunatics were committed to asylums in Ireland in 1899.

Proportion of Police to population,
Tables 13
and 14.

A column in table 13 in the Appendix shows the proportion which the number of effective force of Constabulary bears to the population (according to the Census of 1891) in the various counties, and in provincial towns with a separate Police Force, in Ireland. In the following counties the proportion of Police to population is the smallest, as will be seen from the table :—

Londonderry,	12 in every 10,000 of the population in 1891.
Antrim,	13 " "
Down,	13 " "
Tyrone,	13 " "
Armagh,	14 " "

In the following counties the proportion of Police is the largest :—

Clare,	35 in every 10,000 of the population in 1891.
Westmeath,	35 " "
Meath,	33 " "
Galway,	31 " "
Limerick,	31 " "

The proportion of Police in the principal Cities and Towns is as follows :—

Belmont City Force,	34 in every 10,000 of the population in 1891.
Dublin Metropolitan Police District,	32 " "
Londonderry,	28 " "
Waterford,	26 " "
Galway,	25 " "
Cork,	23 " "
Limerick,	23 " "
Drogheda,	22 " "
Kilkenny,	22 " "

The proportion of Police—excluding County Inspectors and District Inspectors but including Depot and Reserve Force—to the estimated population of Ireland in 1891 was 27 in every 10,000 of the people.

Detectives.

In the Royal Irish Constabulary members of the different branches of the Force are selected for special duty when necessary; in the Police of the Dublin Metropolitan Police District an entire division consisting of 39 effective men (20 detective officers, 13 Constables, and 16 Sergeants), 4 Inspectors, and 1 Superintendent are employed as detectives.

Notes to Tables 1, 3, and 5.

(a.) The titles of offences (Column 1) are much condensed. The fuller titles, and the offences comprised under each head, are given on page 36 of the Criminal Statistics for 1895.

(b.) The Tables show the number of persons prosecuted, not the number of offences. Where, therefore, any person is prosecuted at the same Assizes or Sessions for several offences, one offence has to be selected for tabulation; and the rule to be followed is to select that for which the proceedings were carried to the furthest stage—to trial if there were several indictments, to conviction and sentence if prisoner was tried on several charges. If there are several convictions, the offence selected is that for which the heaviest punishment was awarded. If the final result of proceedings on two or more charges is the same, the more serious offence (as measured by the maximum penalty allowed by the law) appears in the Tables.

(c.) Where, in addition to the offence thus selected for detailed tabulation, the same person is prosecuted for other offences of a distinct character, and charged in separate indictments, the number of these additional charges is given in columns 21 to 24 of the Tables, column 22 giving the total number of such charges, column 23 the number resulting in convictions, and column 24 the number for which separate sentences (not concurrent with those in columns 11 to 13) are passed. Only distinct offences charged in separate indictments are included in these columns; additional indictments merely varying the form of the charge, and additional charges appearing as counts in the same indictment, are excluded.

(d.) Where a person is prosecuted for one offence and convicted for another (e.g. committed for murder and convicted of manslaughter), the case appears only under the offence of which he was convicted.

(e.) Columns 2, 3, and 4 ("Numbers for Trial") include only such cases as actually come before the Assizes or Quarter Sessions. Persons who die, escape from prison, abscond while on bail, or are removed to an asylum before trial, are not included.

(f.) Column 15 ("Imprisonment") does not include the sentences of imprisonment which sometimes precede sentences of detention in a Reformatory School, nor does it include sentences of imprisonment in default of payment of fine, or in default of finding sureties.

(g.) Columns 16 and 19 ("Fine") include all cases where payment of a fine is imposed as the sentence or part of the sentence, whether the fine is actually paid or not.

(h.) Columns 17 and 21 ("Recognisances") include cases where recognisances are required, whether with or without sureties, and, if sureties are required, whether they are found or not.

(i.) Columns 18 to 21 are for those cases where more than one punishment is imposed for the same offence. Thus, if a person convicted of larceny is sentenced to be imprisoned and whipped, the imprisonment appears in Column 15, the whipping in column 20.

4 The Officers and Sergeants of the G Division are considered as "Detectives."

(a) Employees of a Government and its agencies employed in Government Departments and in private service with public bodies

Notes to Tables 15, 16, 17.

(a.) These Tables include only offences tried summarily. All indictable offences where the Court does not actually assume the power to determine the case summarily are excluded. Further, these Tables include only cases where the proceedings are criminal—that is, lead if successful to a conviction. There are a large number of cases which are quasi-criminal in character, but where the procedure is by complaint, leading, not to a conviction, but to the making of an order. These are provided for in a separate Table—No. 18.

(b.) The Tables show the number of persons presented, not the number of offences. Where, therefore, any person is presented at the same time for several offences, one offence has to be selected for tabulation, and the rules followed are the same as in Table 1 to 5 (see note (b) page 40).

(c.) The offences included under each of the titles of offences in Column 1 are stated on page 46 of the Criminal Statistics for the year 1898.

Notes to Table 15.

(d.) Table 15 corresponds to Tables 1, 3, and 5, and (as regards length of sentence) to Tables 2 and 4.

(e.) Column 5, "Committed to Industrial Schools," includes only those committals to Industrial Schools where an offence is charged—i.e., committals under Section 13 of the Industrial Schools (Ireland) Act, 1858. Other committals to Industrial Schools where the proceedings are not criminal appear in Table 18, and also in Tables 45 to 47.

(f.) Columns 7 to 13, "Imprisonment," do not include the preliminary imprisonment in Reformatory School cases, nor terms of imprisonment in default of paying fine or of finding sureties.

(g.) Column 14, "Reformatory School," contains all cases of persons sentenced to Reformatory School detention, whether they are actually admitted to a reformatory or not. Details as to cases actually received in reformatories are given in Table 41.

(h.) Columns 16 and 17, "Fine," include all cases where a fine is imposed, whether the fine is paid or not. The number of persons committed to prison in default of paying fines is given in Tables 35 and 31.

(i.) Columns 17, 17a, and 20, "Recognisances," include all cases where the defendant is ordered to find sureties, whether the sureties are found or not. It must be remembered, however, that the Table applies only to convictions, and that it does not include cases where a person is required to find sureties upon complaint. These cases are included in Table 18.

Note to Table 16.

(j.) This Table corresponds to Table 5.

POLICE RETURNS.

Notes to Table 20.

(a.) Column 1, "Offences."—The titles of the offences are the same as in Tables 1 to 5.

(b.) Column 2, "Number of Crimes committed."—This column includes all crimes reported to the police within the year whether committed by the same or different persons, and whether any apprehension takes place within the year or not.

(c.) If there is a commitment or conviction within the year, the Table shows the nature of the crime as judicially determined. Putting this, the charge which is named in the summons or warrant on which the prisoner is arrested is taken as determining the crime. If there are no proceedings and no apprehension, the character of the crime is judged by the facts so far as known to the police.

(d.) In columns 3 to 21 the number of persons proceeded against is given, not the number of crimes or charges. A person charged at the same time with several offences appears as one person only. In selecting the offence for tabulation the same principle is followed as in Tables 1 to 5—the charge resulting in conviction or committed for trial has preference to the others; and subject to this the more serious offence is selected. If there are two or more convictions at the same time, that for which the heavier sentence is inflicted is regarded as the more serious. These columns include only cases disposed of within the year. Cases pending at the end of the year are reserved for inclusion in the following year's tables.

(e.) Columns 7, 8, 13, and 16, "Discharged," contain cases where the Magistrate does not assume power to try the case summarily, but discharges the accused under Section 13 of the Petty Sessions (Ireland) Act, 1851, or Section 25 of the Infants' Offences (Ireland) Act, 1849.

(f.) Columns 9 and 17, "Tried Summarily and Discharged," contain cases where, after the Magistrate has decided to deal summarily with the case, the charge is dismissed or withdrawn.

(g.) Columns 10 and 18, "Tried Summarily and Convicted," include cases dealt with under the Probation of First Offenders Act, 1857.

(h.) Columns 11 and 19, "Committed for Trial and sent to Prison," include all persons committed to prison to await trial, whether they are subsequently released on bail or not.

Notes to Table 21.

(i.) The titles of the offences are the same as in Table 16 (b), and, as in that Table, only criminal proceedings are included.

(j.) Notes (c) and (d) above apply to this Table.

(k.) Columns 7 and 11, "Convicted," include cases dealt with under the Probation of First Offenders Act, 1857.

RETURNS FROM THE
TABLE 26.—Numbers of Suspected Persons at Large, and

The enumeration for the purposes of these Tables was made on the 31st Tuesday in April, 1899. Persons who have been convicted of crime, but who are reasonably believed to be living heretofore at the date of the return, are not included. Columns A, B, and C, "Naturally escaped in Crime," apply to the same cases as the corresponding columns in the preceding Table. Column D, "Other Suspected Persons," includes persons frequently guilty of minor offences, especially the common variety of larceny. Columns E and F, "Persons at Large under Police Supervision," include all persons under actual police supervision, whether included in column H, "Houses of Reformation of Juvenile Offenders," include persons specially suspected of being used for the receipt of stolen goods, whether included in column H, and in houses where thieves and other habitual criminals regularly resort for the purpose of meeting each other.

PRISONS.

Notes to Table 30.

(a.) This Table gives the numbers of each class of prisoners received in each prison during the year. In the case of prisoners committed for trial, it is necessary to distinguish between those who were and those who were not previously in prison on remand; otherwise it would be making up the total the same person would, in many cases, count twice—as a remand prisoner and as a prisoner committed for trial. Similarly convicted prisoners have to be divided into those who were and those who were not in detention before trial. The figures of the cases which thus appear a second or a third time are printed in italics, columns 3, 5, and 7. The total of criminal prisoners, column 10, is obtained by adding the figures in the other columns, 2, 4, 6, 8, and 9.

The Table gives only the first reception of prisoners on remand, committed for trial, &c. When prisoners are transferred from one prison to another, they appear only in the return from the prison in which they are first received, not in that from the prison to which they are removed. Since convicts, as a rule, undergo some detention in local prisons before transfer to a convict prison, they appear as receptions only in the local prison returns.

(b.) Column 12, "Debtors," comprises all persons who are treated as debtors in prison, including bankrupts imprisoned to prevent absconding, &c.

Notes to Table 31.Receives (a).

(a.) This Table gives, in columns 2 to 5, the number of prisoners on remand who are disposed of within the year. It, therefore, includes those in prison on remand on 1st January, but not those on remand and still undischarged on 31st December. Those who after remand are discharged appear in column 3, those convicted summarily in column 4, those committed for trial in column 5.

(d.) Similar remarks apply to columns 10 to 13. Prisoners waiting trial on 1st January are included; those waiting trial and not disposed of on 31st December are excluded.

Receives (b).

(c.) This Table shows only the final disposal of each convicted prisoner released or removed during the year. Each case appears only under the prison from which the prisoner is finally discharged or removed. If a prisoner has been removed from one prison to another, his case is included in the figures for the last prison only.

Notes to Table 32.

(f.) This Table includes all cases received under sentence during the year from 1st January to 31st December, whether in prison before conviction or not.

(g.) All prisoners appear in the return from the prison in which they are first received after sentence, and not in the return for any prison to which they may be subsequently removed.

(h.) Column 6 contains only cases where a licence is forfeited on conviction by a Court of Summary Jurisdiction for an offence under section 5 of the Prevention of Crimes Act, 1871. Other cases of forfeiture and all cases of revocation of licence are included in column 11.

Note to Table 33.

(i.) In this Table two sentences passed at the same time and ordered to run consecutively are treated as one sentence equal in length to the two added together. In the case of concurrent sentences the longer only is given.

Note to Table 35.

(j.) Where the actual date of birth is known the age is given for the birthday immediately preceding the date of reception in prison. In other cases the age is given as nearly as possible.
